<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Quality</th>
<th>Nutritional Adequacy and Association of Household Food Security with DI-219 Dietary Diversity of Last Year High school students in Tehran academic year of 2019-2020</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

Authors:

- Esfahanib.a@sbmu.ac.ir
- Omidi.var.nashir@gmail.com

Institution:

Soroush Research Center for Epidemiology and Health Research

Address:

Soroush Research Center for Epidemiology and Health Research, Tehran, Iran

IR Code: IR-SBMU-UNFETRI REC.1397.033

Note:

The paper discusses the relationship between household food security and dietary diversity among last year's high school students in Tehran. It highlights the importance of understanding how different food security levels impact dietary choices and overall health outcomes. The study suggests strategies for improving food security and promoting healthy eating habits among teenagers.