 Someone conducted a study to investigate the effect of nursing interventions based on Bern’s tool on the success rate of weaning. The study included 100 patients who were randomly divided into two groups: an intervention group and a control group. The intervention group received nursing interventions based on Bern’s tool, while the control group received standard care. The results showed a significant difference in the success rate of weaning between the two groups. The success rate in the intervention group was 80%, while it was 60% in the control group.
